Bharati Dhanwani founded Horizon Exports on a single conviction: that Agra's leather heritage deserved a global platform. She built the footwear division from scratch, developing relationships with international buyers across the US, UAE, Saudi Arabia, UK, Africa, and the Caribbean.

As the business grew, buyers began asking for more. "Can you do suits too?" It was a natural question, Agra's garment makers are as renowned as its cobblers. Bharati called in her sons.

Sagar and Siddharth Dhanwani joined as Co-Founders and built the clothing division, men's and women's suits, hospitality uniforms, and gold & silver jewellery. Each category followed buyer demand. That is why Horizon Exports feels coherent: everything we do, we do because our buyers needed it.

REPLCAE TO THIS : Bharati Dhanwani founded Horizon Exports on a single conviction: that Agra's leather heritage deserved a global platform. She built the footwear division from scratch, developing relationships with international buyers across the US, UAE, Saudi Arabia, UK, Africa, and the Caribbean.

As the business grew, buyers began asking for more. "Can you support apparel too?" It was a natural question, because Agra has always been known not only for leather craftsmanship, but also for skilled garment production and export-ready manufacturing.

Sagar and Siddharth Dhanwani joined as Co-Founders and expanded Horizon Exports into a broader sourcing and manufacturing house, covering footwear, men's and women's apparel, uniforms, accessories, and gold & silver jewellery. Each category followed buyer demand. That is why Horizon Exports feels coherent: everything we do, we do because our buyers needed it.
